Information Management for Business Success

Designed to bring your project teams together like never before!

In today's business world, projects crossing functional and organizational boundaries have become the standard. Goals are set, teams are rapidly assembled, and results are expected despite the need to overcome obstacles such as tight schedules, multiple communication methods and technical incompatibilities. Whether developing a new business strategy, putting together an innovative marketing campaign, or scheduling a new product release, these teams have to meet the deadline - without exception! Project teams are feeling the pressure from day one. Now consider that most project teams today include members from several companies and different functional groups, working from multiple locations, and often in different time zones, and your pressure has now turned into a real problem. With all this working against you, how can the job possibly get done, never mind on time and on budget?

The answer is simple - InQuest Project. InQuest Project is the leading web-based collaboration and document management platform built specifically for business professionals to help them manage the thousands of documents and complex communications of everyday corporate projects. It's a user-friendly system that unites project teams quickly and easily, ensuring that everyone's working with the correct information, when they need it. You know who has what files, which tasks need to be completed, what's on everyone's schedule, and more. It's all there inside InQuest Project, available for your team at the click of a button, anytime of day, from anywhere in the world.

Available as an in-house or as a hosted solution, InQuest Project is a true turnkey application. Simply point your browser to your InQuest Project web site and your team has access to the information and workflow tools they need from project initiation to project completion. With its browser-based interface, customizable project structure, powerful document management features, and robust security framework, InQuest Project provides a flexible and highly functional system that's familiar to your project team the moment they log on. It's the perfect solution to help your team better manage critical documents, coordinate schedules, track tasks, and more, helping them get the job done - ahead of schedule and under budget.

InQuest Project Highlights

Document Management - Store unlimited documents in secure file vaults complete with routing and check-in/check-out capabilities. Each vault offers full version control, history and multi-file uploads and downloads - all with event driven email notifications so you're always up to date on a file's status.

Customizable "Look & Feel" - Apply user-defined skins to display project information in the way you want to see it, creating a system that works for you, not against you. All screens and information display your corporate identity and reinforce your brand.

Built-In File Viewer - View and redline over 250 different file types, including DWG's, DGN's, GIF's, JPG's and more, directly within InQuest Project, even without the file's native application installed. Strict security settings even allow you to select which team members get to view mark-ups and changes.

Comprehensive Security - With flexible security features, you control user access at every level - right down to the file level. Once the system's security takes over, you can guarantee that users only have access to the information they need, and nothing else.

BRAD FAUCHER

BIO • BRAD LIVE • PROJECTS • MEDIA • LINKS

BIOgraphy

Brad Faucher was born in Lawrence MA, July 30th 1971. Faucher's fascination with soul music surprisingly started from listening to his parents' translator radio at Salisbury beach in the mid-seventies. "The funkier of rhythms from the Spinners, O'Jays, Temptations, and Stevie Wonder were blaring from every beach blanket. I can still remember hearing 'Rubberband Man' for the first time!" -Faucher commented.

After playing trombone through elementary and middle school, taking up the guitar happened by accident in 1989. Brad's high school buddy- Jay Bell left his guitar at the Faucher home over a long weekend. When Jay came back to claim it, he heard a convincing version of the Star-Spangled banner lofting out of Brad's second floor bedroom window... Hendrix-style! For Faucher, it all started with Hendrix and Clapton. He listened and read everything he could get his hands on from these guitar icons. From there, he started tracing back to the masters that inspired his heroes. CDs from BB King, Albert King, SRV, and Albert Collins soon invaded his dorm room!

About ALICIA GREEN:

Originally from Malibu, Massachusetts I have lived in California and Colorado as well. I love to travel to places that are not far and have been fortunate enough to be able to do so consistently and intentionally in my work and personally.

I also have used locally providing massage therapy throughout mobile massage services offered in Boston and the surrounding area and in the Outer Cape during the summer months. In addition to the outside aspect of my business, I also have a marketing studio in my location in Malibu and also a location in Boston for those clients who prefer to come in.

In addition to my massage business, which I opened in 2006, I have an extensive background in the travel and hospitality industry. This experience has helped immensely with my business as a Massage Therapist since it has helped to build my level of professionalism, skill, composition and position for my career and for life in general.

I have been fortunate to have the opportunity to work closely with people from all walks of life, including service patients and patients in hospitals as well as professional athletes and their activities.

My mobile business is offered at many of Boston's exclusive hotels and I am an independent contractor at the Four Seasons Hotel. And my on-site services are also offered at The Liberty Hotel, The Ritz Carlton, The Waldorf and The Hilton Hotels in Boston to name a few. I have managed the massage services at the Logan Airport Hilton since 2009.

My motto is, "When we are balanced we are at our best", balancing all aspects of your life with your wellness program is a great start. This is necessary in order for our minds and bodies to relax, recover and heal.

Thank you,
Alicia Green, LMT, S.C.T.S.M.
